!!Betty Fletcher Happy Birthday!!

Today a few of us gathered to celebrate Betty Fletcher's 90th birthday with cake and tea. Her special day was August 16 and she has been partying it up for 3 days.

She was treated to a spa day by her two daughters, one who lives in Ottawa and the other in Port Dover.

Betty also has a son living in British Columbia.

Her friend Keith took her to David's in Port Dover for a date night dinner.

Betty and her late spouse, Doug became active members of St John's Anglican Church shortly after arriving in Port Rowan and Doug held the position of Warden for 5-6 years.

As an ACW member Betty was involved in many fundraising activities and both her and Doug were great supporters of World Vision and the Anglican PWRF.

We wish Betty a very Happy Birthday.

God Bless you All

Booths Harbour Lawn Service.

By Jim Pepper

If you read my column last week, you'll recall that I was poking fun at many of us who get into problems when we try to help out. People like me should just hold other's coats or be the bartender rather than getting right in there and unintentionally causing some sort of problem or mayhem.

This is especially true if there might happen to be machinery, small parts, medium parts, large parts or, I guess, any parts involved. I'm a walking catastrophe at times.

Thus it was in afterthought that because our neighbours were going to be away for a vacation, I offered to cut their grass. A few days after they left and having received instructions on operating his great big honkin' Kubota mower that featured 8 speeds forward, 2 speeds in reverse and a mowing deck that stretched out on either side just far enough to hit most anything, I decided to cut their lawn. I should have clued in to the fact that the only reason he trusted me with it was because it didn't have even one drink holder for my "Pepsi" let alone a cigar lighter!

Having been assured that there was nothing that protruded high enough to catch the blades and no other hidden traps to catch the newbie, I fired her up. Smoke? This thing could have given lessons to Vesuvius, and I was alone with the belching monster trapped in a small shed. Quick! Drive her out into the fresh air! Why had he left Godzilla in hi-speed reverse? Bang into the back of the shed I shot! Whoa there big fella! Turn off the key, and let's start over.

At my age there isn't any great sense in a manufacturer putting anything smaller than the largest letter or number on the optometrist's eye chart. Thus it was that the gear selector went to number 7 forward rather than 1.

Well the smoke has cleared, I can now breathe again, so "gentleman start your engine," a cloud of smoke, press the pedal and out the door I shot just like Dandy Don Garlitts in the Swamp Fox dragster.

Hold on Jimmy! Hit the WHOA pedal!

Churches for the Birds

Eric Harris always enjoys going to church. "He loves the way he feels when in them — safe, happy and loved," notes his mom, Veronica. With the support of family and friends, Harris, who lives with Down syndrome, has found a way to provide warmth and safety for the feathered inhabitants of Port Rowan, Ont.

NO. 1 • NEIGHBOUR
 Harris became interested in birdhouses after receiving a couple from neighbour Pat Scott, who makes and sells them as a hobby. Three years ago, Harris told his dad he wanted to make bird churches.

NO. 2 • PENCIL AND PAPER
 Working from pictures of real buildings, Harris creates pencil sketches of his visions.

NO. 3 • WORKSHOP
 With the sketches finished, Harris

HARRIS HAS MADE REPLICAS OF NEARBY METHODIST, ANGLICAN, COMMUNITY AND UNITED CHURCHES.

HIS CHURCH BIRDHOUSES CAN BE FOUND ON UTILITY POLES THROUGHOUT HIS SOUTHERN ONTARIO TOWN.

works alongside his dad, using odds and ends of building materials. The pair is currently working on Harris' latest design, a triplex modelled after the local Lutheran church.

NO. 4 • PAINT
 Once the houses are built, Harris begins painting and detailing. Acrylic paint is his medium of choice because of the vibrancy of colour it provides.

Lines and Tales - from Rwanda-

I could keep telling you about Bonnie as there is still more that she contributed, but there are others I want to include to give you an idea of the energy, dedication and love for this wonderful significant project by others too. For us calling it a project makes it seem like a hobby but for many of us it was much more than a hobby. It was more a passion. I would like to introduce you to Don and Therese Smith from Ottawa.

You may have heard the saying "It doesn't take a rocket scientist to do something". Well in his working life Don was a rocket scientist. Recently, he has been coordinator of the refugee program for the Diocese of Ottawa and presently passed this duty on to others.

Don also has experience with bookkeeping for different organizations and has helped Vestine, the school bookkeeper set up the way to keep the books. This had been a challenge as he probably started in 2010 and Vestine's only real language was Kinyarwanda. While Don's mother tongue is English and Therese is French, they communicate with each other in both English and French. Vestine understood very little in French. Don didn't know Kinyarwanda so they plodded through over many visits to create the financial system. English is now also a prime language for Rwanda and Vestine now knows a little. When we ask for reports, the Director sends his narrative and Vestine provides the financial which Don reviews. He will email her with any questions before he lets me know all is well financially, so the next funds can go to PWRDF for the school.

Don and Therese have a habit of a glass of wine around 4 pm while at home in Ottawa and in Rwanda quickly discovered the beer store down the road from the guest house. We didn't realize you had to bring empty bottles to be able to buy full bottles at this store, so we planned better. We went to the international store in Kigali when we exchanged money the first day and each bought a beer or two so we would have empties to keep the lady happy at the beer store in Gitarama. Funny, the beer lady got to know the Smiths fairly well. The evening beer was not abused but a relaxing social after a busy day.

Will continue again next week...

August

"The brilliant poppy flaunts her head
Amidst the ripening grain,
And adds her voice to sell the song
That August's here again."

—Helen Winslow

August's birthstones are the peridot, sardonyx, and spinel.

Its birth flower is the gladiolus or poppy, meaning beauty, strength of character, love, marriage and family.

The Western zodiac signs for the month of August are Leo (until August 22) and Virgo (from August 23 onwards).
