BIBLE STUDIES

Repent /Return

As a young Christian, the word ‘repent’ used to make me wince. I often heard it in the context of: ‘You’re a despicable sinner and you need to change – or else!’ ‘Repent’, therefore, can often have a lot of guilt and shame attached to it.

But now, as an old(er) Christian, it gives me hope.

In Hebrew, the word translated into English as ‘repent’ is teshuva. Teshuva literally means ‘return’. Return to what? To the vibrant, abundant life that God has made available to us. To the image of the divine at the centre of our beings. To who we’ve been created to be.

Teshuva is about returning to the path of life. It is a declaration that there is always a light we can walk towards, that human beings have the capacity to change – not to be better, because you cannot improve on God’s design, but to do better, because that is lining ourselves up with who we truly are.

God of love, we return to you. We return to the divine image you placed within us. We angle ourselves towards the light. In Jesus’ name, amen.

The cross of Christ is our way to Return to God’s Love.

“Jesus said to him, “I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me.”

John 14:6

Session 3:

Jesus was in the transformation business

Summary

This session explores the transformational power of stories. Jesus was, and is, in the transformation business. As a result, we have powerful stories of what Jesus has done to share with others. The session aims to embolden you and give you the tools you need to tell your story. It also features a video interview. Video content will be added to the SPCK YouTube channel (<https://cofe.io/SPCKYouTube>) throughout Lent.

This session is based around Chapter 3 of Hannah Steel's book Living His Story. A featured passage is below, but you are encouraged to read the whole chapter as the questions often reference the book.

Featured Passage

One of the most remarkable stories of instant transformation is in Jesus' dealings with the demoniac in Mark 5. Jesus travels by boat to an area called the land of the Gerasene's. It is one of the first encounters that we see Jesus having in Gentile territory. In this remote place, Jesus encounters a man who is possessed by multiple demons. The initial description that Mark gives us of this man is distressing: wild and unkempt, ostracized from the local community, even his own family, wailing out loud and a danger to himself. We can only presume that this troubled man had no prior knowledge of Jesus, yet he is drawn to him and falls down on his knees before him. It becomes clear that the man is entirely riddled with demons and that only the all-powerful word of Jesus can break his chains. Jesus instantly sets the man free, although it does not turn out so well for the herd of pigs nearby. Mark is keen to report that by the time the crowd had heard of this story they were faced with an entirely different picture of the man, who now sat clothed, calm and able to communicate articulately. The transformation undergone by this man was complete: from chaos to peace, from danger to security.

This miracle is one of many instances in the Gospels when an encounter with Jesus brings complete and utter transformation and freedom. You might think that this story of transformation would be met with great relief by the town who no longer have to listen to the terrifying screams of the man wandering around the tombs. However, their fear now turns away from this man and focuses on Jesus instead. They are unsure what to make of his power and were possibly also concerned about the impact on the local farming community. The town turns out and begs Jesus to leave. This is so different from the many occasions where people beg Jesus to stay. Here his presence is not welcome. It is therefore not surprising that the freed man now wants to follow the one who has set him free. Why stay in the town that has exiled him? The man tries to climb in the boat with Jesus when he goes to leave, but Jesus says these words to him: 'Go home to your friends, and tell them how much the Lord has done for you, and what mercy he has shown you' (Mark 5.19).

It is surprising that Jesus doesn't take the man with him, isn't it? Only a few chapters ago he had been recruiting followers for his newly formed band of disciples. Surely this man would be the perfect new apprentice with a miraculous story to share? Jesus knows the home crowd are hostile. Why not save the man the hardship and take him on board? However, Jesus resists the man's desire to follow him and instead sends him back as a witness to his own community, the very community that had been so fearful of him. What is also striking is that this man has very little experience of Jesus other than this one exchange. He hasn't listened to the hours of teaching that the other disciples had. However, Jesus sends him back, simply to tell 'how much the Lord has done' for him. This man was called to witness to the story of God's work in his life, to speak of his utter transformation and his present experience of freedom and peace. And we soon read that 'every-one was amazed' in the surrounding towns (Mark 5.20). Where Jesus had caused initial confusion and fear, this man's story of his encounter with Jesus in turn began to transform the lives around him.

I love this story from Mark's Gospel because it is a powerful illustration of the influence of personal story. Jesus leaves the man in his hometown, untrained but full of his own personal encounter. And the results speak for themselves. This way of witnessing is one of the first and easiest ways we can start to share our faith with people and can be one of the simplest ways to get started on imaginative evangelism.

Video

For this session, there will be a video interview between Hannah Steele and Phil Knox. This video will be available from 22nd February 2021. Video content will be added to the SPCK YouTube channel \(https://cofe.io/SPCKYouTube\) throughout Lent.

Recommended Book

Living His Story: Revealing the extraordinary love of God in ordinary ways: The Archbishop of Canterbury’s Lent Book 2021

How can we convey the love of God to our neighbours in a post-Christian world that has largely forgotten the gospel of Jesus Christ?

In Living His Story, the Archbishop of Canterbury’s Lent Book 2021, Hannah Steele uncovers liberating and practical ways of sharing the gospel story afresh. With warmth and encouragement, she shows us how we can live Jesus’ story in our own lives simply by being the people God made us and allowing people to be drawn to him through our natural gifts.

Living His Story is a Lent devotional that will change the way you think about evangelism, show how ideally suited it is for the world we live in and fill you with confidence in sharing God’s love with the people around you.

Set out in six sessions to take you through Lent, each chapter of the 2021 Archbishop of Canterbury’s Lent book can be used as a single study for individuals or small groups to prepare for Easter. It will help you find space to see evangelism from a new practical perspective.

Joseph Culver, donated the land and 1821 St. John's Anglican Church was Build!

The first St. John's Anglican Church was a humble log structure which burned within two years. A new, much more elaborate church, complete with an attractive steeple and belfry, was erected in 1824. With the exception of a few years, beginning in 1848, when the church was used only during special services, this building faithfully served the Anglican of Norfolk until 1874, When it too, burned. A third church, this one made of brick, was completed in 1875. Next edition more History...

The village was one of the first settlements in the area and the Memorial Church grounds contain a Loyalist cemetery with burials as early as 1798. The cemetery was closed for burials in 1917. The church building was built in 1870 in memory of the early pioneers and Col. Samuel Ryerse who is buried there. The church building, cemetery, and grounds are situated on one corner lot at 31 King Street, Port Ryerse. Memorial Church does not have a rectory of its own, due to its small size and because it has always been paired with a larger church with a functioning rectory. Memorial, as part of the Long Point Parish presently has a shared rectory in Port Rowan.

In 2012 the building was renovated with a new bell tower and made fully accessible including new wheelchair accessible washrooms and a lift. The Bell Tower and Accessibility Project cost over $200,000 raised through available church funds, grants, and local support. In 2014, the exterior was repainted and the windows repaired.

Annual fundraising events include manning the local Norfolk County Fall Fair gates, providing staffing at one gate for the duration of the fair. Each year, these shifts are covered by members of the congregation, friends and neighbours.

Taste & See

Turkey and Egg Stromboli

Ingredients

- ⅓ cup unsalted butter, divided
- 1 cup finely diced red pepper
- ½ cup finely diced white onion
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 2 cups chopped cooked turkey
- 1 cup packed baby spinach
- ⅓ tsp sea salt
- 6 eggs
- ¼ cup milk + 1 tbsp (15mL)
- 1 tbsp finely chopped fresh parsley
- 1 tbsp finely chopped chives
- 1 pkg (450g) frozen butter puff pastry, thawed and refrigerated
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese

Instructions

In a medium skillet, over medium-high heat, melt 1 tbsp (15 mL) butter. Cook red pepper, onion and garlic until fragrant. Stir in turkey, spinach and salt. Cook for 2 minutes or until spinach has wilted. Transfer to medium bowl and refrigerate to cool, about 20 minutes.

Preheat oven to 450°F (230°C).

In a medium sized bowl, whisk together 5 eggs, ¼ cup (60 mL) milk, parsley and chives.

In a medium skillet, over medium-high heat, melt remaining butter and cook egg mixture. Gently fold eggs over in the pan creating soft scrambled eggs, about 3 minutes. Transfer to medium bowl and refrigerate to cool, about 15 minutes.

Unroll 1 puff pastry sheet and leave on parchment paper. Place on baking sheet. Spoon half of the turkey mixture onto the right half of the pastry sheet, leaving a ½-inch (1 cm) border. Layer half of the scrambled eggs and half of the cheese on top of turkey mixture. Gently fold left side of pastry over the ingredients. Press pastry edges together, tuck and fold edges underneath. Score top of pastry with a sharp knife; refrigerate. Repeat with remaining ingredients for second Stromboli.

In a small bowl, whisk together 1 egg and 1 tbsp (15 mL) milk. Brush top of each Stromboli with egg wash. Bake for 25 to 30 minutes until pastry is golden brown and puffed, rotating pans halfway through. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

Tip: Use leftover cooked turkey breast for easy prep.

Tip: Stromboli can be baked in advance or the day before. Reheat in the oven prior to serving.
